Boracay Island

After breakfast: go to 【Notre Dame Reef】 when the tide is out and walk directly to the reef. Enjoy the entire white sand beach, as well as the crystal clear water, which is a landmark spot on the white sand beach of Long Beach and a good place to take photos.

【Friday Beach】 is the finest, softest, whitest and most beautiful beach in Boracay. Build a castle on the beach, or lie down under the coconut grove and enjoy the sea and sky.

After lunch: 【D-MALL Pedestrian Street】 is a one-stop open-air market and a bustling commercial district on the island, where you can buy souvenirs, taste local food, and enjoy shopping. Puka Beach is the second largest beach in Boracay, the water is as clear as blue jelly. You can go to the stall near the beach to buy shell handicrafts or provide seafood caught that day to some small restaurants in the direction of Yapbo Village.

Day4

B, L

Boracay Island

After breakfast: Take a crab boat with local characteristics and visit the surrounding islands and Crystal Island. Crystal Island is not big, with a radius of less than one square kilometer, but there are still mini beaches on the island, with slices of coconut and brown tung trees and various seabirds. Caves hidden in some of the corners of the coast are connected to the sea, which look like natural crystals. Not far away is a good place for snorkeling. Wonderful corals and colorful small fish can freely travel through the underwater world. In Magic Island Cliff

Jumping, it's time to test your courage.

There are various heights to choose from, and experience the feeling of falling into the sea in Sunset Sail (with a safety officer on your side).

At dusk: the unpowered sailboat is completely driven by the sea breeze. Sitting or lying on the net pockets, you can drift on the sea and watch the sun slowly descend with the excellent scenery.
